

EMPLOYEE APPRECIATION

Why it Matters?

Employee Appreciation Day fosters a positive work environment, boosts morale, strengthens team bonds, and enhances engagement, retention, and productivity, driving organizational success.

Employees who feel appreciated are 69% less likely to look for a new job within the next year.

Companies with high employee engagement, often bolstered by appreciation initiatives like branded gifts, report a 21% increase in profitability and 17% higher productivity.

80% of employees agree that receiving branded items makes them feel more connected to their company's culture, improving overall morale and motivation.
